Rick,

Keep up the good work in school. Don't make the same mistake I did growing up. Just studying and working hard will get you where you want to be in life.

Love,

Dad

ACADEMICS

No school could function without the assistance of a school board. We at E.H.S. are fortunate in having capable hands to guide us. Standing: R. Thorson and H. Bray. Seated: Mrs. F. Optiz, R. Clark, Mrs. N. Sabin, and T. Dobrick. Not present: H. Melcher.

Guiding Hands

A superintendent's work is never done. Our new administrator, Mr. David Ross, is kept busy with the ever-present responsibilities facing him.

Mr. Deane Page, principle of E.H.S., supervises the activities within our high school. One of his many jobs is to meet students and make them feel welcome.

"Now you know boys, the library is a place of study!"

The Elkhorn School System can be proud to have an administration which is effective in carrying out higher standards of education. Superintendent David Ross and Principal Deane Page have stressed the importance of the requirements necessary for success. The administrator's interest in each individual student wins great admiration from the students of E.H.S.

The school board is responsible for the selection of the faculty and school policy. The future holds bright for E.H.S. while these capable citizens set the standards to high levels of learning.

Office Work was handled by: Standing: Mrs. H. Bartelson, Mrs. J. Meyers, Mrs. K. Harrington. Seated: Mrs. M. Kelley.

The Superintendent Secretaries were: Standing: Mrs. M. Jenkins, Mrs. M. Luchini. Seated: Miss E. Olson.

Many people working together keep E.H.S. operating smoothly and efficiently. In the office, secretaries are busy attending to student records, issuing report cards, selling athletic tickets and books, duplicating materials and ordering supplies. For the counsel seeking student, trained guidance counselors help select educational avenues which are tailored to fit the individual. Our librarian is responsible for the tedious task of ordering, preparing and maintaining these materials for student use. Our health program is headed by a registered nurse, Mrs. Rada Kohl, whose duties include vision and hearing programs, immunizations, holding health clinics, and checking on absences due to illness. An efficient and hardworking staff of custodians keep the school clean and orderly.

Passwords to the Future

Latin and Spanish students have shown us that studying a foreign language can be both interesting and exciting as well as educational. Customs and traditions of ancient Rome and Spain are intertwined with the great asset of the language labs.

Art courses not only provide experience with line, form, color, tone, texture, and spatial relationships but also develop organized thinking and emotional expression. E.H.S. art work was used to publicize various school functions and decorates many activities.

Musical talent is displayed in various ways at E.H.S. Band is offered for those who play musical instruments, and chorus for those gifted with vocal ability. Pep Band and dance band are offered for those who are interested. Private and group lessons are available in both musical departments. Members of the band and chorus participate in State Contests.

And now—the Elkhorn High School Marching Band!

Rick, Foreign language seem to come easy to you. I hope you continue on with a language after high school. Have a very successful senior year.

The Mathematics Department emphasizes the New Math of bases and sets. The department works hard toward a new and better understanding of the basic operations of mathematics. It develops sound and logical thinking necessary to solve problems.

The Science Department of E.H.S. offers students a wide selection of courses. General science, Biology, Physiology, Chemistry and Physics all offer a challenge to any student.

The annual Science Fair, held by both the Math and Science Departments, gives students an opportunity to display original projects which prove interesting and creative.

We have special memories of our Junior Prom, Senior Class Play, and finally graduation. Thus we followed in the past and will fulfill it in the future—TO DO A COMMON THING UNCOMMONLY WELL.

Dear Friends,

I am sincerely glad when I say that I have been chosen as one of the A.F.S. students to Elkhorn this year. Certainly, I couldn't have been placed in a more friendly and wonderful little city and a more lovely family in the whole United States.

It is true that this year goes too fast, but forever I will keep fond memories of everyone. When I return home I will have many happy recollections, such as your kindness and understanding, and of course, all my experiences in your country.

I would like to thank all of you for your friendship and generosity. I really hope to come back and see you again. Once again, . . . THANKS.

With love,
Alicia

New Friends in

Dear Friends,

Now this very sad moment has appeared, the moment when I have to walk away from my friends, when I have to leave a community which grew into my heart more than I can express with words.

I'm looking back now at the end of my A.F.S. year as every episode of my life with you runs through again like an exciting movie. I have to tell you that you made me love America and you made me feel that there is a possibility of people living in peace.

Your spirit and your active life, your celebrations like Homecoming, the football games, the basketball games, and especially the friendship you offered me when I first walked into your community, are all impossible to forget.

I think the hardest thing is to say good-by to a friend, the better the friend, the harder it is, and I think I have to be hard on myself now to be able to turn around and walk off. It is like walking into the night.

Good luck to everyone and thank you for all you've done for me.

Your Austrian friend,
Walter

Dear Friends,

The past four years at Elkhorn High School have provided me with many wonderful memories. My fondest is that of being an American Field Service student. Last summer I was lucky enough to represent Elkhorn in Sweden. I spent two wonderful months with the Ingemar Borg family on a farm near Skara. That summer was filled with travels and new friends. It was hard for me to leave my second home, for my friends actually made me feel like a Swede.

My thanks go to the Elkhorn A.F.S. Club for giving me this opportunity to see and learn so much. I truly hope everyone will have similar opportunities to make friends all over the world.

Sincerely,
Julie

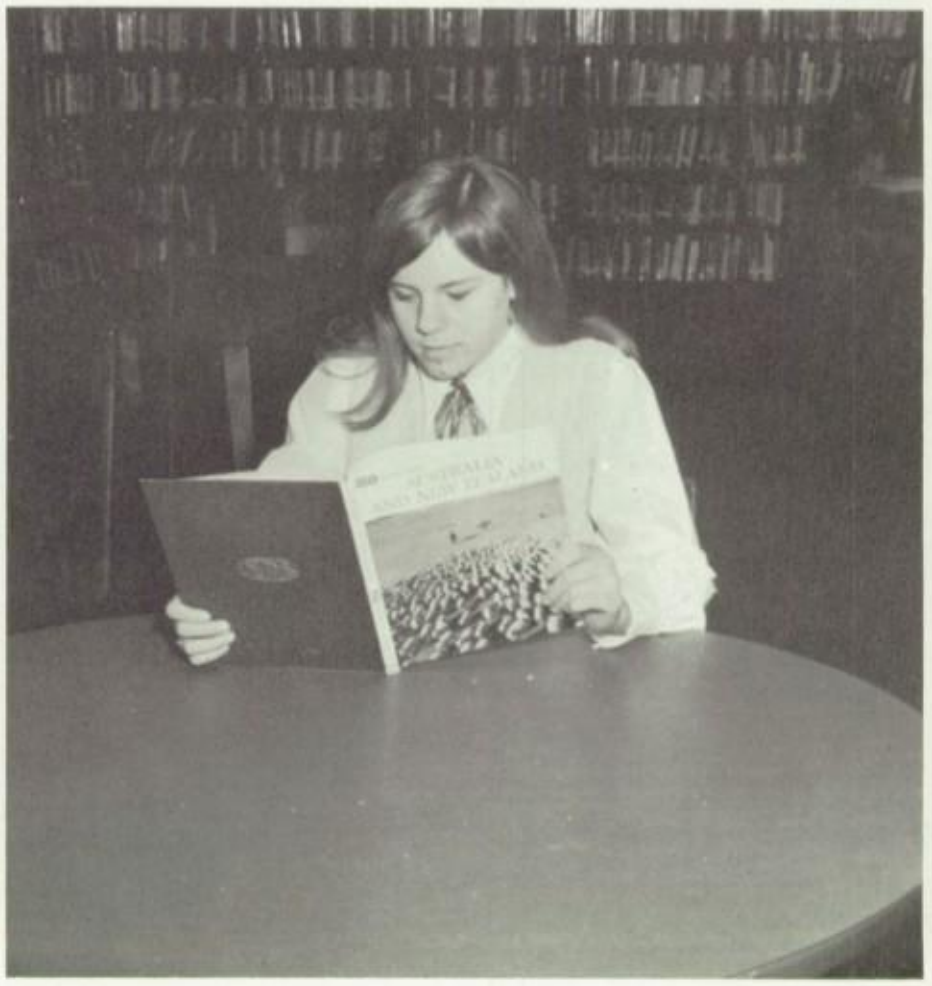
This year Lynn Thoms, a junior at E.H.S., received a special Christmas present. She was notified of her A.F.S. home in New Zealand. Lynn will be spending the next twelve months with the Ralph Henderson family of Balclutha.

We're all sure Lynn will have a wonderful year walking together, talking together, and through this, helping to bring peace.



Four young men led the activities of the Junior class. They were: Jerome Koetterhagen, president; Charles Dugan, vice president; Breck Magill, secretary, and Lary Bray, treasurer.

"Which way did you say Lake Geneva was?"

The Junior Class began the year with the long awaited arrival of class rings, and the election of their class officers. Juniors began planning for the future by taking the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test. Class pride and spirit prevailed throughout the year as juniors participated in Homecoming Activities, All-School Play, and the "crowning" event of the year, the Junior Prom.

Class of 1972

That Hai Karate really works, huh Randy?

The Sophomore class rose to great heights, placing first in their homecoming skit "Little Purple Riding Hood" and second on their original float, titled "Yankee'll Doodle it Again."

The class has shown their well rounded abilities through participation in the All School Play and their presentation of a class one-act play.

The event that towered over all other activities for every student in the sophomore class was the selection and ordering of their class rings.

The class of "72" has proven themselves to be a class of skill and ability, and with these talents anxiously await their future accomplishments at Elkhorn High School.

A crushing first week!

Their first week was an exciting one for the newest students at Elkhorn High School, The Freshmen. They entered with the hopes of making the Class of 1973 one of the best.

With new teachers, new friends, and new activities, the first couple of weeks was spent in finding out just how things are run at E.H.S. But with football games, Homecoming activities, and All-School Play, the Freshmen began to take part in the "Spirit of E.H.S."

Now the newness and bewilderment are gone and only the anticipation for the following three years remains.

Each period of a school day, two students monitor the halls. The jobs of a hall monitor are many and varied: Besides picking up the absence slips from each class, the hall monitor often has to run errands for the office or a teacher. They are also instructed to direct and aid visitors to our school.

Student librarians work one hour a day in the library. They help lighten Mrs. Bray's work load by shelving books, putting up bulletin boards and checking out books.

The Art of Self-Expression

Art Club offices were held by: D. Pontel, Treas.; J. Dobrick, Public Relations; B. Mentz, Pres.; Mrs. Miller, Advisor; A. Barr, V-Pres.

The Art Club, holds as its purpose: "to promote culture throughout the school." An artistic bulletin board was set up in the lobby to accomplish this purpose.

Other methods have been art trips, of which the most outstanding was the visit to the Rembrandt showing in Chicago, an all-school art show, and the annual Art Fair at the end of the year.

The Art Club is to be congratulated and encouraged to continue the noble task it has set for itself.

Perfecting Skills

Young men were given a chance to develop many skills this year in the organization of Future Farmers of America. Mr. Strassburg, led the members who participated in the judging of many farm products. The tractor operating contest, gave the members a chance to learn and exhibit necessary farm skills. An awards banquet was held in the spring to honor deserving members.

Wisconsin Junior Dairyman's Association is dedicated to good dairy practices. They attended district meetings and ended the year with a parent's night.

SPANISH CLUB OFFICERS: M. Oleson, Pres.; V. Liner, Secretary; R. Colvin, Treas.; Mrs. Patrick, Advisor; Alicia Streicher, AFS Student.

Under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Patrick, the Spanish Club formed this year with eighty two members. The club, which is open to all students who have taken Spanish gives the student a broader view on Spanish lives and customs.

Throughout the year the Spanish Club held many fund raising drives which paid for scholarships given to two rewarding seniors. Christmas found Spanish Club Members caroling in Spanish and sending cards to men overseas. The highlight of the year came during Easter Vacation when a group of students went to Spain and Portugal.

"Cut that out, you'll melt my ice cream!"

Joining together for the purpose of understanding the world's neighbors is the goal of the American Field Service. "Traveling ambassadors" help to create a feeling of unity, cooperation, and friendship between their country and the country they visit.

In order to support this exchange, school organizations contributed money to the A.F.S. Club, as did community groups. The main money-making projects of the club were selling ice cream to the students during noon and a fall candy sale.

Working, playing, and living together, created a second home for our foreign exchange students, Alicia Streicher and Walter Fritz. Julie Marks spent her summer in Sweden and in January, Lynn Thoms left to spend a year in her A.F.S. home, New Zealand.

"Walk together, talk together. O ye peoples of the earth, then and only then shall ye have peace."—motto of the American Field Service.

Equals School Spirit

Pep Club members worked hard to make signs to create spirit.

Pep Club was organized this year under a new advisor, Mrs. Beuchel. The club made pep signs for all football and basketball games. A committee was assigned each week, which was then responsible for getting the signs to the games, both home and away. The club also had candy sales and sponsored a mixer. During Homecoming everyone busied themselves making pep signs, and working on the skit. The club worked very hard this year along with the cheerleaders to raise the spirit of the student body and team, and ended the year with very successful results.

The Lettermen found that playing Donkey Basketball is easier said than done.

The Letterman's Club started out its second year with high hopes of another successful year. Leading the charge this year were President, Jerry Corcoran; Vice-President, Steve Henningfield; Secretary, Greg Nettekoven; and Treasurer, Pete Godfrey. The main moneymaking project for this year was the Donkey Basketball game. It was a big success and everyone had many laughs. The Letterman Club attempts to channel the enthusiasm of the athletes into worthwhile projects. From the success of the projects, it appears that their goals have been achieved.

Athletics—Not Just for Boys

A national organization, the Girl's Athletic Association, promotes interest and participation in athletics among girls, encourages good sportsmanship, creates interest in improving health, and develops good leadership qualities. Advised by Miss Schaffer and led by the elected officers, the GAA had a full year of sports activities, including volleyball, basketball, gymnastics, war, skiing, and baseball. Each activity was managed by a sporthead, the duties of which were to form teams, review rules, and schedule games. Sports nights and play nights were held at various schools, which many of the members attended.

The "Cream of the Crop"

The National Honor Society is a selective organization in which a number of students who have attained a 3.5 or better grade average for four semesters are admitted.

Only 5% of the junior and senior classes can be admitted, however, there are usually more students than this with 3.5 grade averages, so it becomes necessary for a group of teachers to select the best candidates. They are judged not only on scholastic ability, but participation in school and community activities, and qualities of leadership.

the Key to Expression

E.H.S.'s newspaper, the "ELK HORN" had a very successful second year of existence. The "ELK HORN" gave each member of its staff an opportunity to decide if a career in journalism was "their bag." A journalism class was added to the E.H.S.'s curriculum to inform students of new and interesting means of writing. This class was responsible for keeping the community informed of activities going on at the high school by writing the ELK BROADCASTER. The students of E.H.S. were proud of their young newspaper and hope its fine representation of the school persists.

Preserving E.H.S. Memories

"No D., M. doesn't want her picture taken!"

"Now, THIS is an Organization!"

At the end of the school year the students leave with their 1970 Elk. It contains pictures, memories, and much hard work. The 1970 Elk serves as a reminder of a year's activities and accomplishments.

Under the capable guidance of Mrs. Beverly Snyder and editor, Eleanor Davies, the staff combined their talents and efforts to produce this yearbook. Each year the staff attempts to equal or surpass the efforts of the previous year. The 1970 Elk Staff was no exception.

The 1970 Elk Staff decided to try something new. Once again our annuals arrived in the spring (to depart with our students) but a new section was added. This was a supplement which contained the spring activities and which arrived in the fall.

The Art of Music

The Elkhorn High School Band, under the direction of Conductor Ralph Hughes, was another outstanding group representing our school this year. The band participated in many outside interests as well as in school functions.

The marching season demanded long hours of work by the band, drum major and twirlers to make each half time new, interesting, and successful. The bands other performances for the 1969-1970 year were various.

Poor weather conditions required the cancellation of the scheduled public Christmas concert. Two concerts were held in the spring. One was an ensemble recital and the other was a combined chorus-band concert.

Another major event was playing at the University of Wisconsin Band Day. Members of the University of Wisconsin at Stevens Point also performed for the band and general public.

Separate band members had a chance to show their skill during the local and district solo and ensemble contests in the spring. Many of them had a chance to go on to a higher degree of competition in the state contest.

An organization of many activities, the band, through its exquisite playing and masterful showmanship, represented the school enthusiastically and successfully wherever it spread its artistic tones and demonstrated its superior performance abilities.

"Stage Door"

Elkhorn High School presented its first girlie show last November 13, 14, and 15th to delighted audiences of over 500 each night. The play "Stage Door" by Edna Ferber and George S. Kaufman (popularly known as "The Wehner Follies") was centered around the lives of several young girls living at the Footlights Club in New York, all trying to break into the world of the stage. The cast is complete (with twenty-one girls and eleven boys, it should be!) from the old, has-been actress who runs the boarding house down to the persevering young actress whose talent finally gets her a leading role on Broadway, and a handsome movie producer.

Signs of Christmas showed up early at E.H.S. The arrival of the Christmas tree in the lobby left no doubt—Christmas was on the way. The tree in the hall was a stocking tree. Articles of clothing and toys were placed under the tree for the needy. Classes again competed in the Christmas Tree Contest. Seniors took first place; Sophomores second; Juniors third; and Freshmen fourth place. Due to a snow day, the choral and band concert was held in January.

Steve Henningfield, hard running senior full-back, gave the Elks the strength they needed on the running plays.

With the arrival of a new coach, prospects were bright for Elkhorn's young football team. After the first three games, however, it appeared as if the Elks would follow on the school's losing tradition. But then the full effects of the new coach took over, and the Elks won four out of their last six games. Coach Paul Yanke taught the boys what it meant to be a winner and the Elks finished the season with their best record in eight years.

Post season honors went to Dick Davis and Rick Carroll who were named to the All-Conference First Team and to Jerry Corcoran and Bob Frazer who were named honorable mention. Coach Yanke also received a great honor as he was named Southern Lakes Conference "Coach of the Year".

A New Coach: A New Era

Brett Adsit, during his first year out for football, proved to be a great asset on both the offensive and defensive teams.

The Junior Varsity Football team started slow and finished strong while the Frosh were strong all year. The combined records of both teams after the first three J.V. games were eight wins, zero losses and three ties.

The slow start of the J.V. team could be contributed to the fact that they had to become acquainted with a whole new offensive system with the arrival of a new head varsity coach. After mastering the intricacies of the offensive system, the J.V.'s went to work under the guidance of their coach, L. Voskuil. The Elks out-scored their opponents in their last five games, 101 to fourteen, thus finishing the season with five straight wins.

The freshman team set out to learn the fundamentals of football but when they finished their season, they had not yet tasted the sting of defeat. Under the excellent leadership of Coaches C. Statz and G. Lewis, the freshmen compiled a record of three wins, zero losses, and three ties. The hope for the future lies bright in the paths of these young athletes.

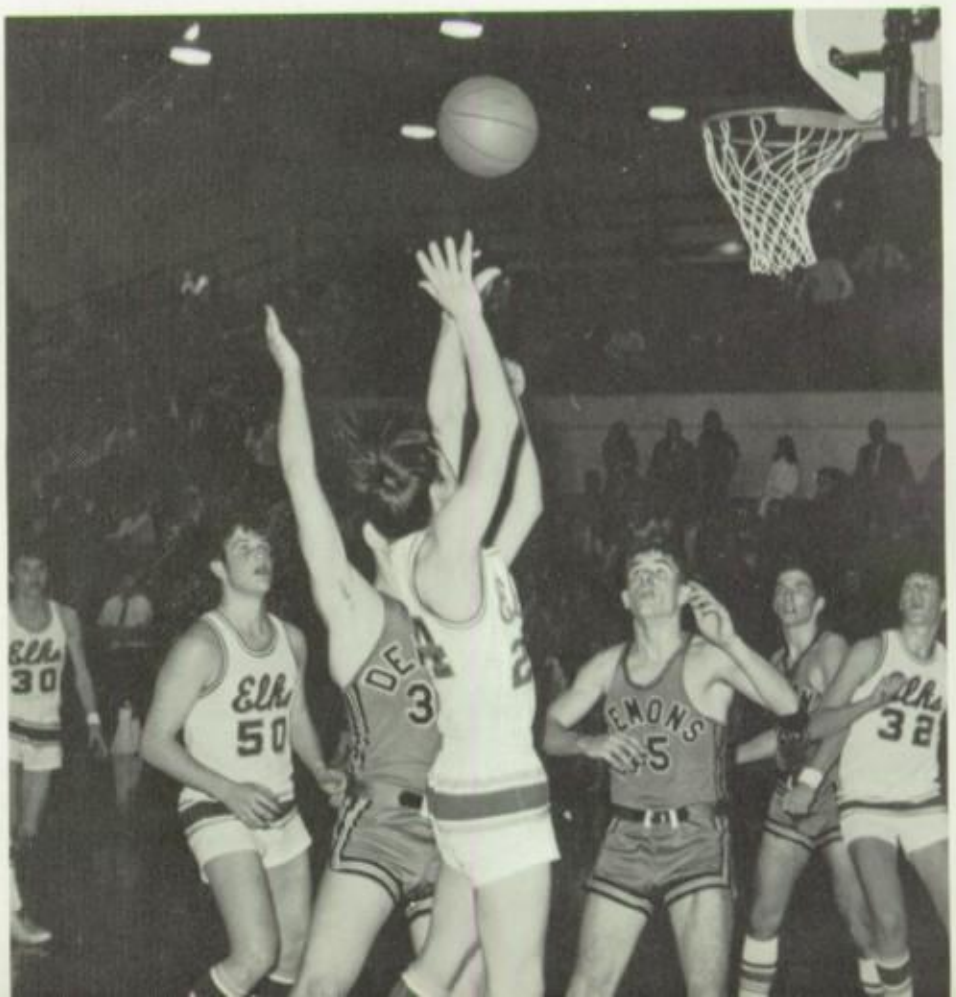
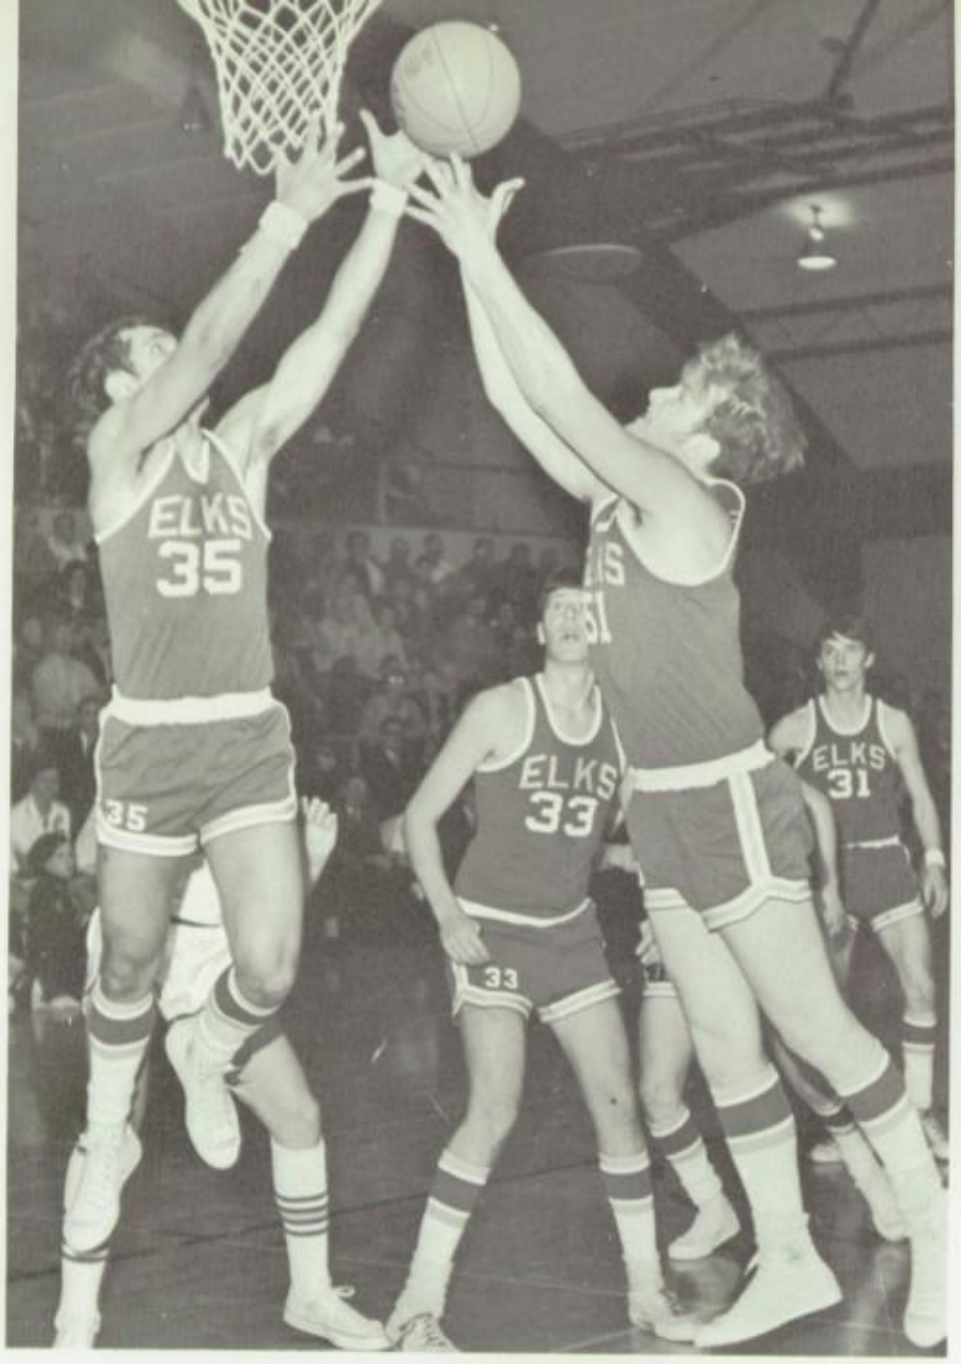
"Our Boys Will Shine"

Dick Davis gives the Elks the scoring punch they need in their victory over Wilmot.

Vicious battling for the ball was a high point in the Elks' overtime loss to Burlington.





Dick Davis and Rick Carroll gave the Elks the rebounding strength they needed throughout the season.

Roger Nalevac, junior guard, kept the Elks in many ball games with his excellent shooting.

The Elkhorn High basketball team started the season off on a very optimistic note by defeating Wilmot High. After reaching their peak of emotional preparation for their important game with Whitewater, they were completely crushed and their hopes seemed futile. After recovering from their loss, the Elks settled down and became one of the best, if not the biggest, defensive teams in the conference.

The outlook for the future beams bright as the Elks will have two returning starters in Rick Carroll and Roger Nalevac. Not far behind them in ability are: Jim Corcoran, Howard Reynolds and Jon Ryan, also returning juniors.

The hustle and desire of the Elks' younger teams is evident as they get a two on zero fast break.

Although they did not finish among the leaders in their respective races, the Elks' J.V. and Frosh teams provided exciting entertainment for many basketball fans in the area.

The Junior Varsity, under the leadership of J. P. Fisher, produced a great deal of exciting entertainment for the early Friday evening Fans. Even though they were not on the winning side of the scoreboard often, their hustle and will to win makes the basketball future of Elkhorn a bright one.

The freshmen, under the leadership of Coach Jerry Nettersheim, worked hard throughout the season to master the very basic fundamentals of the game. The Frosh competed on Friday afternoons, but still managed to draw a good size crowd. Many happy surprises were in store for the fans who came to see the future Elk Stars play as they saw many exciting games.

The twelve girls that scream and yell at every game are the Varsity and Junior Varsity Cheerleaders. Twice a week, these girls practiced their jumps, yells, and buck-teeth smiles in front of the windows in the lobby to get ready for the games. Besides yelling and screaming at all the games and having bake sales to raise money for their new uniforms, the cheerleaders held a Training Table Dinner before the victorious homecoming game for the team and coaches. The girls had their own banquet at Wilmot High School in December. Under the direction of Miss Schaffer, the cheerleaders completed a very successful year.

The girls' tennis team was formed shortly after classes began last September. The members practiced four nights a week for the first two weeks, and then took place in the eliminations for the first match. Eliminations for each match were held the Wednesday before the match, which took place on the following Monday, after school. The majority of the matches were played at the new tennis courts, which are located at Sunset Park. The team finished in fifth place, with two wins and four losses.

To one the greatest kids
that ever lived,
you're a member of the class of
"71" Remember?
Good luck
with the Elk Horn and everything go do Take care
Nancy Ho
"71"

Rick,

I'm sure glad you were in algebra, (who else would I have to cut down). Have fun this summer + keep your hands to yourself

Sandy

"71"

Rich,
To the smartest Kid in our English Class and may you get an F on your next notebook. (Not really.) Good luck always.
Bonnie Larson

ME AGAIN
GUESS WHO!
TURN PAGE 71 :)

"Rich"
You the smartest kid in Spanish class and it makes me sick!
Have fun this summer (with Shirley)

Rich -

I hope that you will do a much better job as editor of the Elk Horn. Those two that were editors for the last half of last year were always trying to get their pages put together at the last minute.

Good Luck - Buena Suerte

Sandy Watts

Rich!
Best wishes to a real brave? Dcon't help it if D'm dumb!
You had better do a good job on the Elk Horn next year!

"Turtle" (Sally)

Rich
Lots of luck
always & have fun
I wish you success too,
(but I'm sure you'll have that even without a wish-you deserve it!!!) Be good ☮ Lynne

Rich -
Chemistry was
I hope this year and be good this year. Your grades will next year. Good luck
Jon Carcone

Rich
To a guy has too many brains for me in not only algebra but science too. Have fun next year but relax and don't study.
Don't forget you don't have to have a 4.0+ grade point-just the way stay cute
you are
